

International Council on Systems Engineering

www.incose.org

INCOSE Academic Equivalency

Scan QR code to visit www.incose.org/aceq

Top Things to Know about Academic Equivalency

- It is for university courses that count toward degrees
- Universities may continue using their existing textbooks
- Universities may teach using any language or methods
- Participating universities must be part INCOSE's Corporate Advisory Board* (CAB)
- There is no cost to universities other than CAB membership
- It gives students credit for the knowledge exam, which in the first step toward SAEP and CSEP certification
- Students who pursue ASAP or CSEP must pay individual membership and application fees
- Students may use Academic Equivalency without earning degrees
- As of November 2024, twenty-five universities have Academic Equivalency
- Learn more by emailing certification@incose.net or scan QR code

* There is an alternate path for universities that are affiliated with INCOSE MOA chapters outside the US

